SUBJECT: Letter of Appreciation

1. On behalf of the faculty and staff of the Defense Intelligence School, I would like to express my sincere appreciation for your excellent presentation at the March 1982 Indications and Warning Short Course.
2. Your lecture on National I&W Organization was well received by the students, who remarked favorably on your knowledge and professionalism. This appraisal is particularly significant as the student body represented a wide array of personnel from the military and intelligence communities.
3. The high quality of the Indications and Warning Short Course depends largely on the excellence of speakers who, like yourself, gave so generously of their time, talent, and expertise. We greatly appreciate your valuable contribution and hope that the Defense Intelligence School can count on your participation in the future.
